Coventry Couriers Win Change

Food delivery workers in GMB Union have been campaigning for the change at popular outlet Popeyes, says GMB.

GMB Union, representing food and delivery couriers across Coventry, has today welcomed the news that popular local restaurant Popeyes has scrapped a controversial policy forcing couriers to wait outside for food orders.

The news comes after workers staged a protest outside the fast-food hotspot [1], calling for management to allow couriers to wait inside for orders.

Claude Bahati, GMB Organiser, said:

“These workers wanted nothing more than the ability to stay dry and warm when doing their jobs. In other words, dignity.

“Our members make these restaurants and delivery platforms possible.

“GMB is clear that they deserve respect and should never be left out in the cold and rain for orders.

“We welcome the serious engagement from Popeyes Coventry on this issue.

“Now we're putting restaurants on notice that GMB will never accept couriers being left without the tools to do their job.”
