

GMB signs union deal at HS2's Birmingham station

GMB has signed a union deal at HS2's Curzon Street station in Birmingham.

The deal struck with MaceDragados – the joint venture building the station – will give GMB access to the workforce building the station, where they will recruit members and reps.

The union will also be able to make sure standards in health, safety and wellbeing are maintained.

Charlotte Brumpton-Childs, GMB National Officer, said:

"GMB is proud to have reached an agreement with MaceDragados.

“Workers win when unions are given access to the workplace

“We look forward to meeting new members and recruiting reps to further strengthen GMB’s involvement in the HS2 construction.”
