

GMB 'fully behind' Belfast night bus

GMB Union has given its backing to the Belfast night bus, but says changed to people's working lives 'must be done properly'.

Peter Macklin, GMB Organiser, said:

"GMB is fully behind the idea of a night bus operating in Belfast.

"But this is a major change to people's working lives – and must be done properly.

"Translink has to undertake the proper consultation process with unions and get round the table for long overdue pay talks."
