

Sizewell C: GMB responds to construction green light

GMB, the energy union, has responded to news of Sizewell C triggering its Development Consent Order (DCO), opening the path for formal construction of the new 3.2GW nuclear power station on the Suffolk coast.

Charlotte Childs, GMB National Officer, said:

“Today’s announcement is long overdue, but is great news for both nuclear workers and energy workers in the UK.

“We all know there can be no net zero without new nuclear – which provides reliable, carbon free power.

“It’s time to stop dithering and get spades in the ground so we can meet our environmental responsibilities whilst still keeping the lights on.
