Equal Pay Without Delay

ASDA Pockets the Difference

ASDA is paying its depot workers (who are mainly men) between £1.04 and £3.74 more than its retail workers (who are mainly women).

GMB believes ASDA's retail workers should be paid the same as ASDA's depot workers.

Tens of thousands of your colleagues are challenging ASDA on this very issue. They have taken out an 'equal pay claim' against ASDA.

This legal battle is going very well, with big wins in the courts so far.

When we win, GMB members will get the back dated pay they are owed and ASDA will have to pay retail workers equally moving forward.

You can join the claim too. Join GMB and complete the online Equal Pay claim form.
