

Dropping employment bill show what Govt think of working people

04 Apr 2022

GMB Union has responded to the Government dropping the employment bill.

Gary Smith, GMB General Secretary, said:

“To drop the Employment Bill, after the disgraceful P&O sackings and widespread use of revolting fire and rehire tactics, says everything about this government’s attitude to working people.

“Employment rights in our country need to be stronger, and it is simply not good enough for the government to keep on failing in this key area.

“In the face of spiralling energy bills, rampant inflation, and a cost of living crisis, working people should be able to stand up for their rights at work and organise for better pay.

“Our country deserves better.”
